Dean Engelmann...Principle of Tangletown Gardens and Wise Acre Eatery. A Horticulture major from the University of Minnesota turned entrepreneur and biological farmer. Day to day, Dean oversees their Minneapolis Garden Center and Landscape division, the Wise Acre Eatery, and 100 Acre farm and greenhouse operation just 45 miles away from their urban businesses. Most recently Dean’s passions and intuitions have made him look for new and innovative ways of producing everything from greenhouse annuals to pastured poultry. Come spend some time with Dean while he shares this unique journey and just how revolutionary and exciting farming can be!
